

Becoming a Public Health Inspector requires:

1. Graduation from one of the following Institutions with programs accredited by the Canadian Institute of Public Health Inspectors (CIPHI):

Ryerson University, Toronto. See School of Occupational and Public Health:
<http://www.ryerson.ca/sophe/>

British Columbia Institute of Technology, Burnaby, BC
<http://www.bcit.ca/health/enviro/>

Concordia University College of Alberta, Edmonton, AB
<http://www.concordia.ab.ca>

Cape Breton University, Sydney, NS NB Community College – Bathurst, Bathurst, NB
http://www.ebu.ca/cbu/_main/home.asp

First Nations University of Canada, Regina, SK
<http://www.firstnationsuniversity.ca>

AND

2. A minimum of 12 weeks of practicum working in a health unit under the supervision of a Certified Public Health Inspector

AND

3. Prepare two reports related to work experience during the practicum

AND

4. On completion of steps 1, 2 and 3 above, you are eligible to take an oral Certification exam set by the CIPHI's Board of Certification.

See <http://www.ciphi.ca/boc.htm> for details.

About The Canadian Institute of Public Health Inspectors (CIPHI)

CIPHI is an organization that protects the health of Canadians and represents Environmental Public Health Professionals across Canada.

See <http://www.ciphi.ca/index.php> or call 1-888-245-8180.

Simcoe

P.O. Box 247, 12 Gilbertson Drive
Simcoe, ON N3Y 4L1
519.426.6170 / 905.318.6623

Email: info@hnhu.org

Web: www.hnhu.org

Caledonia

282 Argyle Street South
Caledonia, ON N3W 1K7
905.318.5367

HALDIMAND-NORFOLK
HEALTH UNIT